Our family regularly makes a trip for the winter holiday. Prior to departure, we always go shopping for food for the journey and mainly for beer for our dad. My sister and I pack the luggage, our mummy prepares meat and our father relaxes on the sofa. Finally, we depart. We arrive in the hotel in Switzerland after driving for four hours. “All rooms are taken,” says the receptionist. I am very disappointed. I do not want to go home and spend my whole holiday there. However, daddy is happy because he left his luggage at home.

I live with my parents and brother in a family house in the suburb. There is a big garden behind our house where we grow vegetables. Mom grows a lot of flowers as well. Our house has two floors. On the ground floor, there is the kitchen, bathroom, living room and bedroom of my parents. Although the kitchen is the smallest room in the house, it is very practical. The living room is the most beautiful room and is big and comfortable. There is a television and aquarium with many fish. I often sit in the armchair which stands in the corner. That is my favorite place. My room is big with lots of light and I can do there everything I want – listen to the radio, play computer games or read.
