

Mistakes in meaning

It is a hot winter morning. The family is standing at the table, drinking bread and eating tea. Parents are writing the newspapers and are silent with the kids. At half past seven, the children throw the notebooks away and leave. They have to be at the airport at twelve o'clock.

There are many people lying in the bus. Poor children have to stand. They get on at the school. The teacher is wearing a blue swimsuit. The headmaster wears red dress and sleeps in his office. The children go home at night and drink their dinner.

Grammar mistakes

A german tourist left his wive at the highway stopping place. A caple was going for winter vakation in switzerland. They just wanted take in petrol and refresh at the ges station. The man had to weit in the line at the cesh desk and so his wive went to the tolet. When hi came back to the kar, he did no realize that wife was gon and left the station. After 3 hour he fond out that the front-seat is emty. He returned immediately. His wife was vaiting et the highvay stopping place becose she had left her cell phon in the boot. They coud continue beck to teir homeland.